To Sing In Three States Over Two-Week Period

Amid the "goodbyes" of well-wishing classmates, the Wartburg College a capella choir boarded two 1946 Waterloo Stage buses yesterday with their director, Dr. Liemohn, and Public Relations Director Shalkhauser. The first leg of the 3000-mile concert tour of 1946 was to Monona, Iowa, where the group presented the first concert of the current trip last evening.

From Monona the choir moves into Wisconsin for eleven concerts and into Minnesota for three with the last stop at Waseca, Minnesota, before returning to Waverly. Then after three weeks of studying the choir again will take the road, this time to the west, for a weekend in Nebraska.

This is the first postwar tour of the choir, again under the baton of Dr. Liemohn, who during his eight years as director has developed outstanding choirs here at Wartburg College. Dr. Liemohn's own composition, "Mass in Four Movements," consisting of "Kyrie," "Gloria in Excelsis," "Sanctus," and "Angus Dei" will be one of the features of the concert program prepared for the tour.

Other numbers to be presented are as follows:

Hail, Gladdening Light, Charles Wood.

Salvation Is Created, P. Tschesnokoff.

How Blest Are They, P. Tschaikowsky.

Beautiful Savior, Crusaders' Hymn.

Holy Radiant Light, Gretchaninoff-Cain.

Wake, Awake, For Night Is Flying, P. Nicolai .

Praise The Lord, O My Soul, A. Gretchaninoff.

A Mighty Fortress Is Our God, E. Liemohn.

GROUPS TO GUIDE EXPANSION AT COLLEGE NAMED

New Gym, Dorm, To Be Pushed; Much Remodeling Soon.

Two special planning committees to plan and watch over physical expansion of Wartburg college were named at the board of regents meeting Tuesday in Waverly.

The first, a general PLANNING committee, was authorized to engage architects for general campus planning and to decide what buildings are to be erected.

The second, a permanent BUILDING committee, will plan and supervise the building of the structures decided on by the general committee.

The general committee will be composed of Rev. C. H. Becker, president of the college, Rev. L. Belk, chairman of the board of regents and Dr. William Young, executive secretary of the board of Christian higher education.

The building committee will be composed of Rev. L. Belk and Walter G. Voecks, members of the board of regents, and Rev. Erich Prof. A. A. Aardal, and Dr. Elmer Hertel, members of the faculty.

A GYMNASIUM and a GIRLS' DORMITORY were named number one and two on the list of new Wartburg buildings being planned in the expansion program.

Plans for the two buildings will be drawn up soon and work on them will be started as soon as is possible.

It is hoped that building PLANS will be COMPLETED within 30 DAYS.

Definite figures on "money" were not available, but it was learned the building and remodeling planned would cost at least SIX HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS.

Immediate improvements to be completed before this fall include the remodeling of Warthurg hall and of North hall.

Wartburg hall, present girls' dormitory, will be remodeled so that 14 additional rooms will be available, making space for 28 more students. The ground floor of the building will be made into a student social center.

North hall, at present dining hall and boys' dormitory, will be completely remodeled. The present dining hall will be remodeled into a CAFETERIA. The dormitory rooms on the second floor will be remodeled.

ARCHITECTS TO BE NAMED FOR COLLEGE PLANS

Build Gym, Dorm, As Soon As Can Get Materials.

A "campus architect" and a "building architect" will be chosen next week to make plans for those two phases of the Wartburg college expansion program.

This announcement was made Tuesday evening by the Rev. C. H. Becker, president of the college, at a dinner given by the school for a large number of Waverly civic workers.

It is probable that two different firms will be chosen, he said, although this is not yet definite. The choice will be made by Dr. Wm. L. Young, executive secretary of the board of Christian education, the Rev. L. Belk, chairman of the board of regents, and the Rev. Mr. Becker.

The architects chosen will be instructed to begin immediately to DRAW PLANS for coming projects.

In an address prepared for the Tuesday evening dinner, President Becker stated that "every effort will be made to complete plans and specifications for the new gymnasium and for the new girls' dormitory immediately."

These buildings will be "started as soon as material can be obtained" and the college "hopes to go ahead with them right now if it is in any way possible."

The goal of enrollment this fall is 325 students. This is about 75 greater than enrollment now.

The college now has eight "new student" applications for each one received at this time a year ago, so that "early registration" is being urged.

To care for these people, work will be started on remodeling to provide 14 more rooms in the present girls' dormitory, and on remodeling in North hall which will provide more and better rooms for boys there.

The school will be "a service institution", serving the community and the church just as the state schools serve Iowa's needs.

"Accreditation by 1948" from the North Central association is a major goal.

Definite steps to this end are under way. A larger and a stronger faculty will be necessary. Already planned are added instructors in departments of religion, history, economics, science, music, language, and athletics.

The college "believes in a strong athletic program but does not expect to emphasize it out of proportion."

The college has these major objectives:

ONE. To train leadership for church pastors, parish workers, and teachers.

TWO. To train leadership for communities and to get people who understand community problems, goals, and programs.

THREE. To provide a good liberal arts education with emphasis on good scholarship, character building, and appreciation of the arts and sciences.

FOUR. To provide professional and preprofessional training.

FIVE. To do all this in a religious setting, and to make a Christian college, although not on a narrow denominational basis.

PLAYERS WILL DRAMATIZE NOVEL BY FOX

The students of Wartburg college under the direction of Miss Dayo Hunter, will be cast in the play "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come", a dramatization of the novel by John Fox, Jr., to be given on May 1, Senior Day.

The play takes place in a section of the Kentucky mountains known as "Kingdom Come". Chad is the hero of the story. He is an orphaned, homeless boy who is the "little shepherd" of Kingdom Come. Chad will be characterized by Bob Mueller. The rest of the cast is as follows:

Nathan Cherry, Herman Diers.

Betsy Cherry, his daughter, Joyce Pohl

Melissy Turner, Esther Blasius.

Major Calvin Buford, Clifford Dirkson

Miss Lucy Buford, his sister, LaVonna Hastwig.

Old Tom, their negro servant, Victor Schmidt.

Thanky, their housemaid, Lois Chesley.

Mrs. Caroline Dean, a neighbor, Audrey Matthias.

Margaret Dean, her daughter, Margaret Vorthmann.

Nellie Hunt, his sister, Barbara Becker.

Jennie Overstreet, a poetess, Dorothy Diers.

APPLICATIONS ALREADY IN FOR 1946-47

Applications for the 1946-47 school year are coming in at rate of 8 or 10 a day as compared to last year at this time.

The college is planning to have facilities for a student body of about 300 by fall. Present indications are that it may be necessary to limit the enrollment.

The north end of the first floor and the entire fourth floor of Wartburg Hall are being remodeled into fourteen rooms accommodating twenty-eight more students. By this and other means we hope to take care of the increase in enrollment.

In addition to this, a temporary trailer camp will assist in housing single and married veterans who are rapidly returning.

It is advisable that new students place their applications for entrance and residence early because late applications may be limited.

Concerning The Wartburg Choir

Yesterday we said good bye for a two-week period to our own Wartburg Choir. We take this opportunity to wish our college singers God-speed on their tour and a safe journey home after the inspiring experience is over. Too much can not be said for the prestige and favorable publicity that they bring to our school.

Under the baton of master-director Liemohn, the Wartburg Choir ranks as one of the finest singing groups in the midwest—even as one of the best in the nation. As an a capella group the choir is certainly deserving of all the praise and commendations they receive.

Three things make our outstanding choir possible. The first is its fine director, Dr. Edwin Liemohn; the second is the personnel of the choir—the fifty Wartburg students who are willing to put in much time and effort in learning their numbers and rehearsing them; and the third is the fine cooperation that both the director and singers receive from the administration and faculty, especially as far as the choir tour is concerned. Faculty members do everything that they can to make it possible for choir members to make up their work without too much difficulty, thus making the tour possible.

This is just another instance of the spirit of cooperation and "all-for-oneness" that permeates our school. Hats off to a fine choir and the all-around spirit of cooperation that makes it possible!

World Peace

We read so many articles and hear so many speeches about what is wrong with Russia, with Britain, or with President Truman. And we notice daily what is wrong with our closer neighbors, our class mates, and our friends. Could it be time to turn next to ourselves? Perhaps what is wrong with the world has its roots in our own lives. I cannot see how a world state could settle peaceably questions of international boundaries which are hedged about with century-old hatreds and hope, when a local labor union cannot talk peaceably with its neighbors who have the same hopes and desires plus a little extra capital and at least an equal number of worries. Yet the seed of both troubles is the same—the selfishness of the human heart. We are not statesmen, but our share in world peace is about the hardest task of all—the eradication of personal selfishness, a shifting of attention from others' faults to our own lack of thoughtfulness and selflessness. I do not mean thoughtfulness in the sense of opened doors and held chairs. I mean it is a sincere interest in what others feel and think, where our own desires become so wrapped up in others that our first thought is of what is best for the common good. It is not so spectacular an achievement as deciding questions of international interest, but the struggle is as great and the opposition just as strong. And the result is a much more rewarding one—peace for you now and eventually real peace for the world, not merely a period of exhaustion and preparation for future struggles. Peacemaking is not only a matter of statecraft, but also a matter of personal conquest in the struggle for righteousness.

Religious News and Views

Thanks Be To Him

How realize that many people know no other religion than the "Gospel according to You". Some schools have large chapels and impressive religious services, but all this is useless if it is but a sort of ritualistic and empty attempt at lip service. It is a surprise to hear with what enthusiasm and modesty and fear of God, students on some campuses profane their God. If college accomplishes nothing else, it should turn out people who have a sense of decency. What can we expect when a professor openly curses before many people and whose riotous laughter greets the remarks which are made. Let us thank the Almighty for permitting us to attend a school where the power of the Spirit is felt by the majority, it not by all. We take our religious life for granted, because we are more or less accustomed to praying and worshipping God frequently, but in reality it is a singular blessing bestowed by God upon His children who trust in Him. We are far from perfect, in fact, we, too, are lacking in our duty to God, but, at least, we have the opportunity to come to the feet of the Master. Thanks be to God that Wartburg still stands for God for its guidance, and it is this writer's fervent hope that the greater Wartburg will still emblazon these principles, no matter how big it becomes. We must be constantly on guard against those who, knowingly or otherwise, are tending to destroy the religious structure which our fathers sacrificed so much for.

The Wartburg of the future will be great only if the spirit of Christ can permeate its walls even more than it does at present. We must work for the greater stabilization of Christian principles and the strengthening of a student body and faculty, devoted solely to the cause of Christ and His kingdom. If this is the battle-cry for the future, then the banner of the greater Wartburg will forever above all else, and we may feel that our job is well done. Let us set the example so that others less fortunate than we may follow it.

Prayer Overcomes

Some weeks ago this column carried a story about a young boy who was dying from an incurable disease. He had been given, by man a day or two to live. Today he is once again as healthy as the next fellow. It seems that when the boy did not pass away as had been expected, it was decided that the wrong diagnosis had been made, and further study showed this to be the case. This is the simple way of explaining what had occurred, yet it is interesting to note that several of the best physicians agreed on the original diagnosis. As far as others are concerned, this is a clear cut example of the efficacy of prayer. All human knowledge cannot be true unless for implicit faith can only be put in the promises of God. I do not intend to dispute the claim that this was but an error in diagnosis, yet I should imagine that such errors could not be allowed to occur too frequently. We are glad of one thing, however, and that is that God is omnipotent and as the great healer, He can work over what we know as scientific laws. Truly, we have no evidence for what we say other than to claim with Paul, "Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things unseen."

Lententide

"Lententide is an opportune time for getting right with God. During this season more decisions for Christ are made than during any other season. Christ's cross, which is presented with particular emphasis during these days has a tremendous appeal to all, and most eminently to the young people. Faith in the crucified Christ impels the individual more readily to resolve to live away from sin, to align himself with Christ and to induce others to live their lives in holiness and in service for Christ. Will this Lententide be of spiritual advantage and special privilege to you? As we attend the Lenten worship, we learn to die with Christ, away from sin, and to rise with Him in holiness, righteousness, and service to God and man." (Selected)

Q's & Q's

In the spring when a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of how he can find a shorter route across the campus the tender, new blades of grass turn tail and go right back down into terra firma. Our campus short cuts didn't hurt the lawn when they were blanketed with snow, but it's a different story now. Let's watch it!

GERMAN CLUB HONORS CORNILS

The Hans Sachs Verein observed Professor Jacob Cornils' birthday Tuesday evening, March 12, in Convocation Hall.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of a Smith and Goodpeed Bible to Professor Cornils by senior class members of the club at the luncheon following the meeting.

A special feature of the program was a humorous biography of Professor Cornils prepared by Helene Haefner and Orville Lehman, and presented by Frederick Heupel. The story of the lovers, Hans and Liesel, was sung and dramatized by Dorothy Diers and Roland Jacober. Other musical selections were a solo by Roland Jacober, a piano selection by Ruth Haerther, by Helene Haefner, and two English numbers by the German Club quartet: William Fink, Glenn Riehs, Gordon Neuburger and Wilbert Doerr. Readings of German poems by Frederick Heupel and Rudy Martens completed the program. Mrs. Cornils was a special guest at the program and luncheon.

DEBATERS BACK; ARE SUCCESSFUL

The Wartburg forensic squad together with their coach, Miss Dave Brunton, returned from the state tournament at Cedar Falls with an enviable record this past week. Conrad Ide, one after-dinner speaker, was awarded the excellent rating in his field while the debaters, Rudolf Martens and LaVern Streich, carried Wartburg's banner through five stiff debates over a period of two days. The team opened its offensive by successfully clashing with Central as they debated negatively. In the second contest with Simpson, they proved their affirmative case in a heated discussion. The third and most stimulating debate found Wartburg paired off negatively against Iowa State Teachers College in a close affair which ended brilliantly. On the following day, Wartburg again turned to the affirmative against Cornell College and convincingly upheld a strong case. The final round of debates witnessed a lengthy verbal battle with Iowa Wesleyan as the Knight squad ended its trip successfully.

Under the existing rules, no team was judged as a whole but on the basis of individual ratings. This system placed Wartburg among the top squads.

Chapel Notes

Luther Hall

Gordon Neuberger conducted the first Chapel Devotion on March 14. 2 Thessalonians 5:16 "Pray without ceasing" was used as the basis of his talk on the How, Why, When and Where of Prayer. Prayer changes things and if we persist in prayer God will certainly answer.

In charge of the Friday Devotion were Mr. Kenneth Priebe who made a plea for "Lutheran World Action," with the text Matthew 10:8, "Freely ye have received, freely give." He said that we have been more richly blessed as a nation and as Christians and that as long as the church is a living church it will cost us something. Gavin Kuenzel sang "Hear My Prayer."

Tuesday's Joint Chapel was presented by Arthur Bachmann. Taking his text from Mark 14:1-72, Author told of Peter's denial. Christ is turning his head to each of us, and he is casting longing eyes in our direction if we are sincere and repentant for our injustices God will forgive us.

On Friday student convo devotion was given by Raymond Martin. He took his text from Ecclesiastes 7:1 and spoke about our attitude toward death. The day of our death can be better than the day of our birth only when we have been made perfect by the passion of Jesus Christ. To such birth has meant sufferings but death has meant happiness.

DEVELOPMENT ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED

The decision to form a "Wartburg College Development Association" was made at the Wartburg Board of Regents' meeting Tuesday.

The purpose of the group would be to work continually to raise funds for the improvement and development of the college. Many colleges already have similar associations.

The Rev. C. T. Lenghoit of Columbus, Ohio, for many years a member of the Board of Regents, has been asked to become director of the association. He is expected to give his answer soon.

STRAWBRIDGE PRESENTS BALLET-DRAMA

Edwin Strawbridge and his company of ballet dancers appeared for the Wartburg Artist Series last Thursday night at the Waverly high school auditorium.

With the shouts and cries of laughter and gaity from back stage, the curtain for the first act rose to depict a scene of a wharf in Genoa in 1460. While the dancers are playing the "tarentella" Christopher Columbus strides into their midst. Everyone laughs at his theory of a spherical world, but an experienced voyager renews Chris' faith by his sea tales. Chris has a vision of the land of Cathay. The oriental dancers dance lightly about the Great Kahn who serenely walks on the stage. The dancers fade away into the background and Chris is left alone with his dreams.

The next scene captured the audience at the throne room at Santa Fe. Together with the lack of funds and agitation of Velasquez, Columbus almost lost his cause before the audience of the king and queen of Spain. However, Chris impresses the king with his willingness to lay his life upon the adventure and the ships are his.

The deck of the Santa Maria next appeared on the stage. The villian, Velasquez, acting with a jealous hand, incites the crew to mutiny against Columbus. After a clash of swords Velasquez is hurled to the deck and Columbus restores his admiralty. Land breezes are felt on their cheeks and the play concludes with the victorious Columbus upon the threshold of a new land.

As to the Wartburg College audience, the company charmed them with their grace and poise, cheered them with their fine performance, and inspired them with their ambition. Each scene was accompanied by dances including rhythms of the sea, Gypsy dances, hornpipes, Russian dances, and court dances.

Following the performance Pi Sigma sponsored a silver tea for Mr. Strawbridge and his company in the lounge of Wartburg Hall.

The co-chairmen for this tea were Joan Sundrock and LaDonna Hartwig. Committee chairmen were Food, Margaret Fritschel; Appointments, Helen Haefner; Reception, Irma Hinrichs and Barbara Fritschel; Kitchen, Edith Baehr and Betty Biehm; Dishes, LaVonne Helken.

Cannibal Or ------ ?

"This beats everything," was the casual remark of Cliff, as a waiter, in passing a certain table, dropped a bowl of beets—thus causing some excitement to a certain young lady. That expression was used again when a group of individuals were asked to meet in the Home Economics room.

The week-battered gray matters went into action trying to solve the mystery of the reason for calling the meeting. Miss Clay came to our rescue by explaining the purpose of the meeting, which turned out to be very important.

Since it was decided upon the recommendation of the Student Senate, to brush up on minor details of etiquette in the dining hall, we were asked to serve as hosts and hostesses.

We learned that one may eat with his fork upside down, but of course, it is not to be tried with a spoon. (No longer may I use my knife for eating peas, for knives are to be used only for cutting purposes and for buttering the bread.) The discussion of napkins brought several surprises. Napkins are not to be used as towels for the face and hands (that means that I can't wipe up the last bit of gravy with my fingers and then lick them off); cups, glasses, etc. are not to be graced by the presence of napkins; napkins are not to be thrown on the floor. (If you have a tendency to throw napkins, report for baseball. "Rosie" can use you better than the students who eat in the dining hall.)

Are there any gentlemen present? Worry no longer over which girl to help when the problem of seating the "gals" arises. Assist the one to the left of you, since everyone is to sit down from the left side of the chair. (Yessss, Romeo, we may make an exception for your "present" heartthrob.)

Much evidence was presented that there are many artists in the dining hall who disapprove of whiteness, for so many tablecloths are shockingly chiaro-scuro. (See what the study of Eng. Lit. does for me!)

Carlyle speaks of disappointment which leads to doubt, and that develops into denial. We hosts and hostesses expected the students to be disappointed with this new set-up. This would lead to the doubting of our doing any possible good. Finally, they would deny or reject us completely. To the contrary we have been pleasantly surprised and are assured by the response of the students to this new idea that it is worthwhile. Thanks for the splendid cooperation, Wartburgers! Good manners not only make eating more pleasant, but also make finer Christian individuals.

Jagnow Here

Dr. H. Jagnow, a member of the Wartburg Seminary faculty, Dubuque, Iowa, was here on the campus Saturday afternoon, March 16. Dr. Jagnow was here to give his assistance in the developing of a new set of slides picturing scenes from Wartburg College for the use of the Wartburg Public Relations department.

Red Cross Moves Ahead

Plans will soon be submitted to the Faculty-Student Council concerning the management of the Red Cross Drive this spring, according to Dr. M. Wiedersenders, head of the local Red Cross Drive.

Two movies have recently been shown during convocation period for the purpose of interesting the students and faculty members in the work of the Red Cross.

Eleven O'Clock at Wartburg Hall
The lights of Wartburg Hall blink out
And swiftly from its portals
The men of Grossman Hall are forced,
The saddest of all mortals.
A voice to be obeyed speaks then,
"Now, boys, it's past eleven,
You'd best go home, she needs her sleep,
You've had her out since seven."
They linger yet for one last glance
And then they must depart,
Although they know that L. B's words
Do not come from her heart.

MUSIC, MAAHS HIGHLIGHT CONVOCATIONS

"The spiritual problem is America's greatest—it can not take care of itself," said Major Arnold Maahs, recently returned Lutheran chaplain of the U. S. Army, in the March 11 devotions. He spoke of his experiences in the New Guinea Mission field. "There is no moral leadership in America—no unifying work to hold us together. Church and state have become much too separate in the U. S.; we have ethics without religion." Comparing the Lutherans of America with the native Lutheran of New Guinea, the chaplain showed that the native uses his religion every day; the whole community is of one faith; and every Christian native is mission-minded. "We might well learn these Christian principles from our black brother," said the speaker.

President C. H. Becker held convocation devotions March 19, presenting the challenge, "What is our conception of God?" Our concept changes with our mood and outlook on life, said the speaker, continuing, "We make of God what we choose, it is not He who is capricious. God is ever the same —a God of love".

The Second Choir of Wartburg College, under the direction of student batons, presented a fine program of Lutheran Chorales at Wednesday's convo in the gym. On Thursday the music department presented piano and voice selections.

Knights Drop Finale To Improved Buena Vista

The Wartburg cagers dropped their season finale to a much improved Buena Vista quintet on March 11, by a 72-42 score. The Beavers were determined to win and having once jumped into the lead they were never to be headed. Once again the ranginess of the Beavers proved too much for the smaller Knights, especially in the rebound work.

The Knights were hard hit by the 5 foul ruling as four of the boys were forced to the sidelines during the game, while only one of the Buena Vista boys was ejected. The Knights were "hot" on their free throw chances as they converted on 18 out of 25 charity tosses. Ted Olmstead's four tosses brought his season's total to 67, which sets a new Iowa Conference record. However, he fell short of Jack Oxenreider, Penn scoring ace, in his final attempt to gain conference scoring honors.

The Beaver scoring was led by Vern Hinsman, a returned war veteran, who counted 27 pointers for the Beavers. He was ably supported by Reed with 20 points and Peters with 16 markers.

Paul Koch tallied 13 points to pace the Knight attack, followed closely by Ted Olmstead with 10 points.

FROSH WIN CLASS BB TOURNAMENT

The freshman team won the class tourney from the seniors in a hard fought game by the score of 28 to 20. The Seniors were ahead only once, and that early in the game. "Stu" and Caspers tied for scoring honors for the winners with 8 points apiece, while "Slush" dumped in 8 points for the losers.

In the playoff for third place in the tourney the Sophomores defeated the Juniors 38 to 36 in an overtime. Dohmeier poured 11 points through the hoop to lead the scoring for the winners while Dick Fenske kept the Juniors in the game with 12 points. The game ended in a 29-29 tie and in the overtime the Sophomores scored 7 points to the Juniors 1.

In the first round the Freshmen jumped over the Sophomores by the score of 31 to 7. Caspers again led the winners with 10 points and Fink scored 5 points for the losers to take scoring laurels.

The Seniors easily won from the Juniors 26 to 14. Peterson led the scoring with 10 points for the winners while B. Mueller scored 6 points for the losers to take scoring honors.

Olmstead Chalks Up Conference Marks

Ted Olmstead

Second high scorer in the conference this season with 227 points, Ted Olmstead, Shell Rock, Iowa sophomore, set a new conference free throw record by dropping in a total of 67 gift shots. His 35 points against Buena Vista also set a new mark for total points in one game. Ted was conference high scorer last year with a total of 302 points, but the mark was not made official because of wartime regulations.

New Coach

Major Stanley H. Hall, recently discharged from the army, has been engaged as athletic coach and physical education instructor at Wartburg for the coming year.

Mr. Hall's last assignment was as physical training director of the Lincoln, Nebr., Army Air Base where his coaching record was as follows:

Football, 1942, 6 wins and 1 loss.

Basketball, 1942-44, 51 wins and 9 losses (including two wins over Phillips 66 Oilers) Team named as the top service team in the nation by the Denver Post.

Baseball, 1944-45, State Champions.

Prior to his enlistment in the army in 1941, Mr. Hall was coach at South Beloit and St. Joseph, Ill. high schools. He is a graduate of Maryville College, Maryville, Tenn., where he was on the college honor roll and lettered in football, basketball, baseball and track. He is now attending Illinois University and expects to graduate with a Master of science in physical education degree in June.

His over-all coaching record is impressive:

Basketball

1937-38, County champs, S. Beloit, 18 won, 2 lost.

1938-39, County champs, S. Beloit, 16 won.

RECORDS FALL IN CONFERENCE

The Iowa conference say many of its previous records fall by the way this season with the return of many veterans to the greatly improved conference teams. Outstanding among the teams was the Loras powerhouse which copped the title with 10 wins without a setback. In racking up their wins the DuHawks tallied 580 points for a 58 point average per game for a new conference mark. However, Simpson took team scoring honors with 793 points in 13 games, also a new mark.

Our Knights copped one of the team records, that being the total points scored by the opponents which totaled 973 this year. This surpassed the former record by 208 points. One of the main reasons for this unusual total was the 101-41 licking handed the Knights by Loras.

As for individual achievements, Jack Oxenreider, Penn ace, captured the title with 252 points in 14 games for an 18 point average, both of which better the former marks. Ted Olmstead of the Knights were runners-up in the scoring race with 237 points in 13 games. Last year Ted set an unofficial war-time record with his 302 point total for 19 games. Ted did break a couple of records though as he set a new mark for scoring in one game with 35 points. He also bettered the free throw record as he made good on 67 tosses. To both the field goals and free throw department Ted tied the previous records for those made in a single contest. He was selected as a forward on the second all-conference team chosen by AP.

The Knights had to be content with a conference record of 3 wins against 13 losses, while their season record shows 5 wins to 16 losses. The Knights in all their games scored 876 points to the opponents' total of 1194.

Science Club Has Election

The Science club met on Thursday night, March 14, for the final business meeting of the year. Stella Buhr was elected to serve as president in the coming year. The other officers will be chosen at the organizational meeting next fall. Committee members, who will make plans for a picnic to be held next month, were appointed by the president.

Dr. Rathe, who recently returned from Europe, was the speaker on a program sponsored by the biology department. His description of the hospitals and the functions of the various hospital units in England, greatly interested the student group. Psychiatric work among the members of the armed forces was also explained in detail. The use of various medicines, such as penicillin, in the front line hospitals was another topic discussed by Dr. Rathe. After the speech, the floor was opened for discussion and questions.
